

CHIKUNGUNYA VACCINES

ACIP Meeting

April 16, 2025

Edwin Asturias, MD

Chair, ACIP Chikungunya Vaccines Work Group

Background

- Chikungunya Vaccines Work Group formed in May 2022
 - Topics under discussion include use of chikungunya vaccines in U.S. persons at risk of chikungunya, including those who travel abroad, laboratory workers, and residents of U.S. territories and states at risk of transmission
- Two chikungunya vaccines
 - Live attenuated vaccine licensed in November 2023 (manufactured by Valneva)
 - Virus-like particle vaccine licensed in February 2025 (manufactured by Bavarian Nordic)
 - Both vaccines licensed based on immunogenicity correlates and safety, pending clinical efficacy and expanded safety post-licensure studies

Recap of previous Work Group ACIP presentations

- October 2022–October 2023

- Background on chikungunya disease and its epidemiology
- Immunogenicity and safety of live attenuated chikungunya vaccine (CHIK-LA)

- February 2024

- ACIP approval of recommendations for use of CHIK-LA among U.S. travelers and laboratory workers

- June 2024

- Epidemiology of chikungunya in U.S. territories and states
- Cost-effectiveness of use of CHIK-LA in U.S. territories

- October 2024

- Immunogenicity and safety of virus-like particle chikungunya vaccine (CHIK-VLP)

Overview of today's session

1. Evidence to Recommendations for use of CHIK-VLP among adolescent and adult travelers (Vote 1)
2. Evidence to Recommendations for use of CHIK-VLP among laboratory workers (Vote 2)
3. Surveillance for adverse events following use of CHIK-LA and proposed guidance for use and revised recommendations (Vote 3)
4. Clinical guidance for use of CHIK-VLP among pregnant and breastfeeding women
